POANOKE, VA. June 22. Willis made another record in the Virginia League this afternoon, when he pitched a 1 to 5 game, not allowing Portamouth to get a bit. Only one man reached third, though cace or twice two men were on hases. It was at these critical points that Willis would pull himself together and make the visitors fan the air. Portsmouth played an errorless game, but their inability to connect safely with the ball made their chances to score impossible. Plephoe's errors were made

PIEDMONT'S REVENSE ON BURLEY SLINGERS

Game Was Pitchers' Battle from Start to Finish-Both Twirlers Did Well.

In a very exciting game of baseball played on the Manchester grounds yes-terday afternoon, the "Pledmonts" took sweet revenge on the "Burley Slingers" by defeating them by the very close score of il to 8. It was a pitchers' battle from start to finish, and both pitchers had excellent control of the ball. The fast fielding of Hulcher and his safe tatting for the "Pledmonts" could be considered the feature of th's game. Nuckoig covered himself with glory for his team, the "Burley Slingers," and his excellent pitching deserves considerable mention,

ANATEUR GAMES

C, and O. Offices are both lagging at the rear with an equal score. The game scheduled between the Locomotive Works and C and O. Shops was not played, as the former team was away with the employes on their annual plenie.

Two of the games were close and well-played, but the third, that between the Chinamen and Snowballs, was extremely unequal, the former winning the game by a heavy margin.

INKSLINGERS WIN

After Many Defeats They Capture Second Game.

Scood Game.

The tail-enders have at last gotten on their feet, and those who visited the Lutheran field got their money's worth. The Slingers wen the toss and elected to field. The first man up on the first ball knocked a two-bagger, and with assistance came around, but Brannan, the first man to the bat for the Slingers, went one better and got to third. The whole string went to bat and four runs came in in the first. With this lead the red and blue felt good and added two in the second. At the ending of the third it was seven to two in favor of the Slingers. In the fourth, Gardner threw wild to the catcher, with this bases fine and let in three runs. At the ending of the fourth it was 7 to 6, with the Bees in the latter position. At the beginning of the leighth, the Slingers were still leading with the score at 10 to 9, but the Bees sent one man over the plate and tied the score. The last half of this brought four men across the plate. It was not, however, quite the finish, for the Bees got two men home in the first half of the finist bore boing Ink-

Too much cannot be said for the team work of the Blingers. They all worked hard, and well deserved their victory. Special mention is due Brannan for a magnificent throw to the home plate in the seventh, saving a tie and giving the third out. Both pitchers and catchers played a good game, although Levy got somewhat rattled in the eighth. Richardson and Ricketts could not have done better in their respective positions,

What It Costs to Keck Niagara. What it Costs to Keck Niagara.

H. W. Buck, an enginer writing for the Outlook, makes out that we have an expensive luxury in Niagara Falls. The total hydraulic energy of the falls, says Mr. Buck, would represent about 3,590,000 horse-power. To generate one horse-power continuously for a year by a steam engine requires about thirteen tons of coal, To generate, therefore, continuously 3,500,000 horse-power by Lteam would require about 50,000,000 ions of coal per year.

iy $,500,000 horse-power by Lleam would require about 50,000,000 ions of coal per year.

To generate electric power by steam with the most modern steam plant costs not less than $50 a horse-power a year, allowing for fixed charges and operating expenses. Niagara power can be generated and sold in large quantities for $15 a horse-power a year, or for $35 a horse-power a year less than is possible from the use of coal and the steam ensine.

From the above it will be seen that if all the hydraulic energy of the falls were utilized for power purposes there would result to the country an annual saving of $35 a horse-power for $500,000 horse-power, or $122,500,000, and in addition there would be an annual saving in coal consumption of $5,000,000 tons.

These figures illustrate what it costs the people of this continent annually to maintain Niagara Palis as a speciacle. They represent the saving to those who would consume the power, and not the profit of those who might own the power development.

This waste involved in prohibiting the development of Niagara power might be illiened to a great conflagration in which $5,000,000 tons of coal were annually consumed. Such a connagration night be one of the most magnificent sights in the 50.000,000 tons of coal were annually coasumed. Such a commaration might be one of the most magnificent sights in the world, and people might come from all parts to view it, but the human race would certainly be justified in using every effort to stop the wasts by putting out the fire.—New York Sun.

Brooklyn Fighter Makes Shor Work of New Yorker in Philadelphia Bout.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 23.-Wil-lie Fitzgerald, of Brooklyn, knocked out utes and a half.

The result was a big surprise to the spectators, as they had figured that the bout would last at least three rounds. After the men had sparred for a minute, it was agreed that the Brooklyn boy held McGarry safe. The New York contingent based their hopes on McGarry living up to his reputation of not minding a beating. Fitzgerald's admirers were also very much surprised. They figured their man as the winner, but never counted on such a quick and decisive victory.

Both men entered the ring in the very best condition, and said that they never felt better in their life. They agreed to box under the rules of the club, which called for a clean breakaway. The hall number of the partisans of both fighters, who had journeyed from the metropolis to see their favorites mix it up. Tell It to the Humorist.

Tell It to the Humorist.

"Humorists," says the London Sketch, "are humorists because they are sad," So? Then that's what explains the not infrequent melanchely of British lokes. But the more you pender the Sketch's dictum the more you suspect it of simply tracing jocularity to an attempted escape from gloom, in which case the humorists deserve our profound and unstinted commiseration.

In my day I have known a good score of humorists—some bilthe of temperament, some dejected—and uniformly I've found that their humor caused them much grief. They worked like Percherons to produce it. They couldn't tell whethey it was good or had till the public had sampled it, they curse, their gods if a pet joke fell flat, they hanged their heads if some lesser scintiliation of theirs god praised unduly, they were prepared to admit they never in all their lives had heen clever if only some detractor said B'oo!" to them, and they dwelt in mortal terror lest to-morrow should winess the exhaustion of their vent of fun. Worse yet, mankind has a trick of button-holing humorists and dosing them with merry tales of a quite primitive lucidity. "Ahl There goes Bogss, author of "The Monkey and the Mucliage!" I'll tell him what little Willie said!"

And then, you know, there's the danger that in an unguarded moment a man may write a "sourth in Salvador" or a "Pigs is Pigs," and drag out a dismal existence ever after, unable to repeat the cypioit. No, humorists aren't humorists heause they're said heavier at the more they're humorists.—Boston Transscript.
